Rogue Spirits is Tickled Pink!

NEWPORT, OR, May 14, 2008 (Rogue Wire Service) – Rogue Spirits' award winning Spruce Gin is transformed into Pink Gin using Oregon Pinot Noir barrel. Pink Gin is ocean-aged in Oregon Pinot Noir barrels by Rogue master distiller, John Couchot at the Rogue House of Spirits in Newport, OR. The result is a slightly fruity, mellow and definitely Pink Gin that could only come from Oregon!

The original Spruce Gin was awarded the "Best American Made Gin" at the 2007 World Spirits Competition. Pinot Noir from Oregon's famed Willamette Valley is considered to be the finest in the world.

Pink Gin has joined the award-winning family of Rogue Spirits by earning a Silver medal at the San Francisco World Spirits Competition. It joins White Rum, Dark Rum, Hazelnut Spice Rum, Spruce Gin, and Wasabi Ginger Vodka, which have been awarded 35 medals from around the world.

Available June 1st in 750ml serigraphed bottles, Pink Gin is made with 14 ingredients: spruce, Willamette Valley cucumbers, juniper berries, angelica root, orange peel, lemon peel, coriander, ginger, orris root, grains of paradise, tangerine, free range coastal water, champagne yeast and grain spirit.
